

BLACK WIDOW

1SB101

INFORMATION

The Black Widow full body harness is engineered for professionals working in rope access, rescue, and high-angle environments. Designed with safety and comfort in mind, it features two fall arrest points and multiple aluminum D-rings strategically positioned for optimal performance during complex operations.

With nine adjustable buckles, breathable padding, and a modular design, this harness adapts to the demands of any task. The integrated abdominal attachment point supports efficient ascending and descending, while the detachable shoulder straps convert it into a sit harness when needed.

Widely used across demanding industrial sectors, this harness combines advanced functionality with rugged build quality—giving you the confidence to move freely, work safely, and perform at your best.
